

Dredge Sinks In Lake: Seven Die, Two Missing

Keels Over As Cable Breaks

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 120-foot dredge, bucking like a bronco in waves 10 to 15 feet high on wind-raked Lake Michigan, broke a boom cable while being towed to shelter early Thursday, keeled over and plummeted to the bottom.

Seven of the 19 men aboard the flat-bottomed craft lost their lives in the cold, white-capped waters before dawn. Two others were missing and presumed drowned.

"The heavy seas came on us," said 47-year-old Edwin Selwick, an operating engineer from Des Plaines, Ill. "It was just a matter of three or four minutes after that that she turned over. Everybody dove in the lake. Then she turned over."

The tragedy occurred in pitch darkness about four miles east of Cudahy, a suburb just south of Milwaukee. The dredge was being towed to a haven in Milwaukee Harbor by the 65-foot tug E. James Fick. Both the tug and dredge are owned by Fitzsimmons, Connell Dredge Co., Chicago.

The dredge and the tug had been under way for about four hours making slow headway when the dredge's 40-foot boom broke a guide cable and began thrashing about wildly.

The weight of the boom and the huge dredge bucket it carried caused the craft to keel over into the waves. It shipped water like a dipper, wallowed for a moment and then sank in water 60 to 70 feet deep. The tug picked up survivors.

Delray Beach, Fla., Ordinance Bars Negroes From Pool

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Delray Beach City Commission adopted an ordinance Wednesday to prohibit Negroes from using the municipal swimming pool or the municipal beach.

The commission called its action an "emergency ordinance to prevent interracial riots within the city."

"Racial tension has increased in this community to the point that the life of one commissioner has been threatened," the commissioners said.

The law was adopted without discussion in a public session. It came eight days after the dismissal of a suit in federal court at Miami in which nine Negroes sought use of the facilities.

The city previously has had no law to prevent the "intermingling of the Negro and white races," the commission noted. This was the basis for dismissing the suit brought in the federal court before Judge Emmet Choate May 10.

(M—Missing)

Dead were John E. Stranich, 32; Arne O. Wold, 57; Joseph Obrado, 60; Albert Heron, 40; and Paul D. McKee, 37; all of Chicago; and John Selwick, 64; and James Sullivan, 48, both of Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

Listed as missing were David Olson, about 50, and Sam Kovarik, 35, second cook, both of Chicago.

The dredge and its crew had been working around-the-clock since May 8 dredging a channel to permit entry to a new power project operated by the Wisconsin Electric Power Co. When high winds, with gusts up to 48 miles per hour, buffeted the area Tuesday, it was decided to tow the craft to safety.

The tug skipper, Capt. Robert Affleck Jr. of Chicago, could only bemoan the fate of the men aboard the dredge.

He kept repeating over and over again, "I lost the dredge, I lost the dredge."

Slashed Foreign Aid Bill Goes To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a lopsided vote of 24-4, the House Foreign Affairs Committee gave its final approval Wednesday to a foreign aid bill slashed $1,090,000,000 below President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 request.

The formal committee action sent the big bill to the House. Leaders scheduled it for floor debate June 6.

Administration supporters were clearly concerned about the effects of such a large fund slash in the program to bolster free world countries against communism.

Motorboat Fleet Moves Three-Acre Floating Island

DUNDEE, Wis. (AP) — An outboard motorboat fleet, taking advantage of a helping wind, Wednesday cleared a vagabond island blocking the Kettle Moraine Lake resort harbor.

Nine boats, six pulling and three pushing, moved the three-acre floating bog out into the lake and headed it for the west shore where State Conservation Department crews waited to secure it to the mainland with ropes tied to trees.

Tuesday, the fleet bucked a headwind that repeatedly snapped tow ropes and pushed the island back to its unwanted resting place blocking the harbor. An overnight shift in the wind prompted another try Wednesday.

Before the outboards—mounting 600 horsepower — began Wednesday's attempt, a chunk of the island was chopped off and towed to the west shore and made secure. This made room for additional boats to get into the act.

The island, heavily wooded with brush and trees, originally was located just off the west shore. Heavy rains and a strong wind caused it to float across to the Fahn Resort harbor about a week ago.

KE MINES GOLF, DIVORCE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower got golf mixed up with divorce Wednesday in a slip of the tongue at his news conference.

A reporter had asked him what he thought of Egypt's recognition of Red China.

He said he thought it was a mistake, but a single incident like that doesn't break up the United States' friendship for Egypt.

He continued: "Just like in your family, that every difference or spat doesn't result in going to the golf-to-the-divorce courts, in the same way here—you can't take any one idea or any one act on the part of another government and say, 'That's the end; that's that,' anything, I mean, short of something that is absolutely inconsistent with your own safety and security."

In 1954, only 200 Americans died from diphtheria.

BANK ROBBERS SURRENDER — Two bank robbers who hit the Peshtigo, Wis., bank, surrender to a 200-man posse which trapped them in a swamp area near Peshtigo. The two robbers, Albert Vito, 21, left, and Harold Vaughn, 17, both of Chicago, were captured shortly after the $1,000 robbery in which they shot and wounded a woman employee of the bank. This photo of the actual capture was made at the scene by Peshtigo photographer Leo J. Pesch, Jr.

New Farm Bill Goes To Ike For Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress completed action Wednesday on the second farm bill of this session, a measure setting up a billion-dollar-a-year soil bank and giving farmers other new benefits.

The House passed the compromise legislation on a 304-59 roll call vote. The Senate approved it Tuesday.

Now the bill goes to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature. He is expected to accept it as a substitute for farm legislation he vetoed April 16. The President objected to the first bill mainly because of its provisions for a return to high, rigid crop supports. The new bill does not contain these provisions.

Downstate Demos Express Liking For Symington

Rep. Poage (D-Tex.), floor manager for the compromise legislation, urged it on the House as "not the second best farm bill we have had before us this year" but "probably the third or fourth best, but the only one which seems to have a chance to become law."

The compromise was hammered out Monday and Tuesday by a Senate-House Conference Committee working from two different versions of the legislation.

The soil bank program will get underway this year, but not on any substantial scale, since most spring crops have already been planted.

Congress refused Eisenhower's request for authority to advance farmers up to 500 million dollars this year for land they promise to put in the soil bank next year.

The bill provides for supporting oats, rye, barley and sorghums, the small feed grains, at 76 per cent of parity this year without any planting or marketing restrictions.

Corn produced outside the big commercial corn belt would be supported at 82½ per cent of the (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Polio Cases In State Run Below National Average

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois polio cases are running below the national average, the State Health Department said today.

The department cautiously credited the use of vaccine for the good news.

The exact reason for the reduction in reported cases may be a result of many factors, but the availability and use of a protective vaccine certainly is a favorable influence in this respect," said Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director.

Illinois showed almost a 50 per cent decrease in cases during the first four months of this year. National reports on the disease showed a reduction of 136 cases during the first four months. Illinois accounted for 24 of the 1,463 cases reported nationally for the first 18 weeks of 1956. In 1955, Illinois reported 46 cases for the same period compared to 1,599 for the nation.

Ike Regards Conflict In Services As Healthy

Expects Loyalty After Decisions Made

WASHINGTON (AP)

President Eisenhower declared with table-thumping emphasis Wednesday that the nation's military planners can and must defend to the limit their sometimes conflicting ideas on defense of the United States.

But he also cautioned, in his first personal comment on the recent upsurge of Army-Air Force-Naval rivalry, that once top-level decisions are made he expects all hands will "loyally support" those decisions and refrain from debating them in a way that will "alarm everybody else."

Eisenhower spoke out with fire in his eyes and voice at a news conference in which he also pictured the newly announced cut in Soviet armed forces as a "streamlining" operation—part of changing defense concepts on both sides of the Iron Curtain in the light of new weapons and methods.

The President said he frankly isn't sure what the Russians are up to. But he said if it turns out they really are reducing their armed might, and not just re-deploying manpower, that "would be a very warmly accepted step."

and it would be real progress."

Eisenhower has seldom spoken to correspondents with more fervor than he did Wednesday in battling down what he described as the idea that the country's safety can be entrusted to any particular type of weapon alone—whether guided missile, long-range bomber or anything else.

He gave the table in front of him a series of vigorous raps as he declared the whole problem is one of total national strength, right down to good schools and prosperous farms — "a unit, an integrated problem," he called it, "not one of just little bits of pieces all over the world."

On other matters, Eisenhower said:

1. Congress should "by no means" cut taxes at this session even though the Treasury now estimates a $1,800,000,000 surplus in the current fiscal year. Those estimates have a way of proving wrong, the President said, and in any case tax cuts should wait until a start has been made on reducing the national debt.

2. He thinks Egypt was "mistaken" in recognizing Red China. But that doesn't mean, he said, this country should stop being friends with Egypt — any more more than every husband-and-wife spat means resorting to the divorce courts.

3. He doesn't think much, at the moment, of suggestions that he call a Southern governors conference on ways of carrying out school integration. Eisenhower said Atty. Gen. Brownell has invited the governors to drop in individually. And he said a general conference might only "exacerbate" the problem — make it worse.

4. From what the doctors tell him, he'd be able to stand up physically and mentally to any major crisis. With a grin, Eisenhower said that in the days following his 1955 heart attack he thought the doctors were too optimistic about his future and he "gave them many lectures" on the burdens of the presidency. "But," he added, "I didn't succeed in changing the mind of anybody."

Eisenhower—a man who spent nearly all his adult life in the Army — was plainly ready and waiting for Wednesday's questions about interservice rivalry, development of new weapons and the East-West military and political situation in general.

He ranged in mood from chiding thoughtfulness to table-rapping fervor as he gave his own rapid-fire analysis of the whole situation. Summing it up, he said: "I think there is too much pessimism expressed about the world today."

He played down the apparent difference of opinion between Secretary of State Dulles and Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament adviser, on the meaning of Russia's announced intention to slash its armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

Dulles Tuesday showed irritation at Stassen's show of optimism over the Soviet move. Eisenhower said, however, he has talked with both men on this matter and "the views expressed by both were those that seemed to me logical."

On the squabbling that broke out last weekend between the armed services, Eisenhower said defense is all important "and all of us should study it, but in a spirit of investigation and honest searching for the truth and not just to see whether we can promote a fight between Admiral X and General Y—I think that is foolish."

Sentence Boy, 16, To 30 Years For Murdering Man

CHICAGO (AP) — A 16-year-old boy was sentenced to prison for 30 years Wednesday for murdering a cafe operator in a quarrel over a third cup of coffee.

David Smith was 15 on March 9 when he fatally shot Earl L. Nordmeier, 62, in his restaurant. He pleaded guilty before Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of Criminal Court.

"I'm sorry this ever happened," the boy said. "I didn't mean to do it." He said he never had been in the restaurant or seen Nordmeier before.

"I had been drinking and didn't have control of myself," Smith continued, recalling he had been drinking rum and scotch. "I was irritated. I guess, because we had an argument over the coffee."

"Do you have any plans?" the judge asked.

"When I get to the penitentiary I plan to get a job. It will teach me a lesson I should have learned long ago."

Dr. Alexander Hershfield, a psychiatrist, testified at the hearing to determine punishment that the boy is "emotionally immature but not innately vicious."

"I believe that vocational and religious work, which he needs, will overcome this youthful immaturity," the doctor added.

"He had no friends except those he made by giving them gifts. Right now he is like a ship without a rudder."

Truman Denies 'Squirrel-Headed' Remark; Reporters Say He Was Quoted Accurately

NAPLES (AP) — Harry S. Truman said Wednesday he didn't want to embarrass anybody—but that in fact he never held "squirrel-headed" generalship responsible for the way allied landings were carried out below Rome in 1943-44.

He had been quoted as saying the Salerno and Anzio landings were unnecessary "and planned by some squirrel-headed general" and also that there were a lot of easier places that could have been chosen for beachheads.

"I would make no comment like that," the former president told reporters.

"I had been listening to the conversation of several people who had been there. I am very sorry about it. But it's an embarrassing situation and I hope you'll clear it up."

Truman's secretary, Eugene Bailey, earlier had reported Truman made "a complete denial" of the quotations attributed to him Tuesday night. When reporters asked Truman himself about that, he said:

"I don't want to embarrass anybody, especially people who are with me and reporting on me. I

Kefauver Takes Rap At Stevenson's Veto Of Pension Increase

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver pulled away Wednesday some of the veneer of politeness from the Florida presidential primary campaign with double-edged swipes at rival Adlai E. Stevenson.

The Tennessee senator pointedly told Florida voters that in 1951 the former Illinois governor had vetoed a bill to increase old age and blind pensions by 10 per cent.

In addition, he voiced surprise because he said Stevenson had let stand, "without a vigorous denunciation" a "scurrilous, vicious attack" against Kefauver by former Florida Gov. Millard F. Caldwell.

The Tennessee Democrat and the onetime Illinois governor are battling down the stretch for the nod in the presidential preference derby next Tuesday and 28 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Kefauver and Stevenson are meeting directly for the next-to-last time in the 1956 primary season. They collide finally in California on June 5, with 68 convention votes at stake.

In Florida, President Eisenhower has the Republican primary to himself, except that the name of Sen. William F. Knowland of California is officially on the ballot. Knowland is supporting Eisenhower and making no campaign.

Kefauver stumped his way Wednesday up the Florida east coast.

He began bringing the campaign down to a more personal, hard-hitting level in a street corner talk at Cocoa, although it was only under questioning.

Somebody asked whether the senator could tell him Stevenson's position on old age pensions.

In his customary even tone, Kefauver said he was a little surprised that Stevenson had supported a "liberal bill" the senator had introduced. He went on to say one reason he was surprised was that "as governor, Mr. Stevenson vetoed a bill that would have (Continued On Page Thirteen)

Conspiracy Trial Halted By Illness Of Defendant

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The sudden illness of a defendant, stricken after an appearance on the witness stand Wednesday halted the conspiracy trial of three men, including two high officials of the Truman administration.

Harry I. Schwimmer became ill after testifying on a defense motion and, after staggering as he neared a courtroom door, was helped from the courtroom. He later was taken to a hospital in a taxicab.

A physician said a preliminary examination indicated Schwimmer suffered an "angular attack" affecting the blood vessels leading to his heart. He has suffered from a heart ailment.

Federal Judge Ruben M. Hulen, calling off an afternoon session, told the jury it would be impossible to continue Wednesday because of Schwimmer's illness. He instructed the jurors to report back Thursday morning.

The Illinois Supreme Court Wednesday reversed the death sentence of one Chicago man but refused new trials for two other condemned slayers and set their execution for Sept. 21.

The tribunal upheld the convictions of Vincent Ciucci and George Kelly.

Ciucci, 29-year-old Chicago grocer, received the death penalty for shooting his 9-year-old son, Vincent, Jr., and attempting to burn the body by starting a fire in their apartment.

Ciucci also was convicted of slaying his wife, Anna, and a daughter, Angelina, 4. He was indicted for the slaying of another daughter, Virginia, 8.

The bodies of his family, with bullet holes in their heads, were found in their burning apartment in 1953. The prosecution charged Ciucci wiped out his family in order to be free to marry another woman.

Kelly was sentenced to death for murdering Robert Goldstein, a Chicago tavern operator.

The third condemned man, Calvin Donaldson won a new trial. He was convicted in Cook County criminal court of slaying Frederick A. Wesley, a patron, during an alleged robbery of a tavern in 1954. Two other men were convicted in the slaying but their sentencing was deferred pending the outcome of Donaldson's appeal.

'Selling' At The Comic-Book Level

This should be good news to comic book fans. The Social Security Administration has issued one million copies of a four-color, 16-page booklet entitled, "John's First Job." A copy can be had on request at Social Security district offices.

The presentation is somewhat mushy and does not approach the professional level of today's leading newspaper comics. But spokesmen say the booklets, which cost the government 80 cents per hundred, will put over the idea.

The main story tells about a boy's graduation from high school, how he gets a job and the discovery that his widowed mother can receive benefits from her husband's social security.

We hope this will be helpful, but it seems a bit ironical that high school graduates must be approached via the comic book medium. Yet perhaps a Social Security official is right when he explains that, "the booklet is intended for teen-agers who will read balloons but not a solid page of print."

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It must have been those fellows downstairs. That was the gist of a news conference at which the very highest brass in the Pentagon Monday got together to play down reports of conflict among the armed services.

Over the weekend some newsmen obtained documents indicating disagreement among the Army, Navy and Air Force on the part each thinks it should play in any future war. This was a fire Secretary of Defense Wilson wanted to put out in a hurry.

He conceded as much. He said reports of conflict "can become serious matters." To show everything was in harmony at the highest military levels he called a news conference in the Pentagon Auditorium.

He was flanked on both sides by the civilian secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force and by the chiefs of staff of the three services, resplendent in uniforms, brass buttons and ribbons.

Who wrote the documents, from which the news stories quoted, indicating disagreement among the services? Those documents showed the Army critical of the Air Force and the Air Force critical of the Navy and the Army.

Not the chiefs of staff. They didn't do it. They said so. They said they didn't have any basic disagreements. Well, then, who wrote the documents?

Wilson said they were the work of men lower in rank than those around the table. They were, he said, "staff papers that reflect the view of individuals who worked on them and not necessarily the approved policies of the services."

No one indicated any desire to punish any of those people downstairs for letting the cat out of the bag. They indicated it was not really a full-sized cat.

A congressional investigation where each of the secretaries and chiefs of staff could be quizzed separately, might reveal more than came out of the news conference Monday.

Nevertheless, this seems clear enough from as much of the conflict as has been disclosed: The world is entering a period when even the best military minds can't be sure what form a future war will take. That was plain enough before this new public disagreement.

The emphasis right now is on air power, nuclear weapons and missiles. If the United States and Russia reach a point where they could destroy each other—with air power, nuclear weapons and missiles — they probably won't start that kind of war on each other.

But just to discourage each other from starting such a war they will have to retain big air power, nuclear weapons and missiles into the foreseeable future as a deterrent.

And to be sure neither side will develop something so new and devastating that it might win a war if the other side didn't have it, both sides will have to keep on developing more powerful and terrible weapons.

This doesn't rule out war altogether. If there is an air-nuclear-missile stalemate, there may be all-out weapons, for fear of retaliation, and use the conventional kind.

In that kind of war the Army would probably have to be bigger than it is now. Or would it? Or if one side started the small war would it do so with a willingness to make all-out war if it started to lose the small war?

The Pentagon brass may be in agreement on the plans they make for a while but they can't be any more sure of the future than a civilian.

Many safeguards for health exist for the fortunate residents of the United States and Canada. Some are the result of activities of local or national governmental agencies such as the various public health services or the Food and Drug Administration. Unlike the situation in most other countries, however, private or nongovernmental agencies play a big part in these two nations in maintaining and improving the health of the people.

Among these voluntary agencies is the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The members of this commission are made up of five leading voluntary health organizations: The American College of Physicians, The Canadian Medical Association, The American College of Surgeons, The American Hospital Association, and the American Medical Association.

In order to visit the some 6,000 hospitals in Canada and the United States eligible for accreditation, the commission maintains a staff of 20 physicians in the field.

WHAT IS the purpose of this extensive and expensive program? It is solely to make sure that the patient who enters an accredited hospital will receive the best and safest medical and hospital care which can be provided today.

The requirements are rigid. Any hospital with over 25 beds is eligible but this does not mean automatic accreditation. Before accreditation is granted the hospital must supply information concerning the following: Physical plant (including fire protection), the adequacy of its department of nursing, the nursing and dietary departments, the hospital pharmacy and drug control, the pathology department, the X-ray department, and several other modern and necessary ingredients for the provision of hospital care.

LAST BUT not least, the hospital provides information concerning the qualifications of the medical men serving on its staff. This is so the hospitalized patient will not only have confidence in what the hospital does itself but also in the quality of medical care which he receives there.

Of the 4,000 hospitals in the United States and Canada which have applied for accreditation, more than eight out of 10 have passed the requirements and the list is growing. As of April 2, 1956, 3,102 hospitals have been fully accredited and 528 provisionally accredited.

SOME HOSPITALS not on the list have not failed to pass the examination but are not there because they have not yet supplied the information needed or been visited by the inspectors. One of the finest features of the whole program is that it encourages those hospitals which cannot qualify to improve their standards to the point to which they, too, can be accredited.

The hospital accreditation program is an important protection for all of us. It is a tribute to the five medical organizations taking part in this program that they are doing this job in the public interest at the cost of some half million dollars a year and without expense to the taxpayer.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Recommendation to drama schools: If you really want to prepare your students, give them courses in investments and film producing.

Movie stars aren't just movie stars anymore. They're producers, financiers and investors. What's more, they're starting young. Take a fellow like Jeffrey Hunter.

"I realize I have a certain value now as a teen-age commodity," Jeff says frankly. "But who knows why I have always studied the production end of the movie business. I have spent long hours in the cutting rooms and other places, trying to learn how pictures are made."

But he's not just an idle student. The young actor formed a company and made a documentary film about the Florida lowlands called "The Living Swamp." Filmed in color and cinemascope, it was sold to 20th Century-Fox at a handsome profit.

"Now we've got two other subjects in the works, one made in Guatemala and the other in Panama," he added.

He said that the company has been turning out documentaries, but soon he'll be able to make story films with himself in them. Under his 20th-Century Fox contract, he'll be allowed to make one picture a year for his own company. "That's the only way you can keep any money in this business," he explained. "Especially for me. I have only one dependent, my son." He is divorced from actress Barbara Rush.

Jeff's success may be based on his boyishness following right now, but I predict his career will be booming with all segments of the movie audience soon. Until recently, he has been more or less pegged as a handsome lad without much color.

Now he has a string of pictures that will disprove that. He emerges as a real personality in "The Searchers." John Ford, who has "made" a lot of male stars, did a great job with the lad.

I think Marilyn (Monroe) is making a mistake becoming a corporation. There's something unfeminine about a girl going into business.

CONNLEY'S CREEK, N. C. (AP)—Two of the southland's greatest claims to fame are grits and southern womanhood.

The exact virtues of each remain something of a mystery to the rest of the country, so on a trip here I decided to find out the answers to these puzzlers as my public service for 1956.

Now that my researchers are over, I'm not sure whether I'm any less confused than when I began.

Let's take grits first. Like most people I had assumed you mined grits, just as you do salt or coal. Well, it turns out that isn't true at all. No one knows just how that old myth got started.

"Grits come from corn," explained my host at breakfast one morning. "They're just hominy ground up and cooked. There just ain't any food better than country ham, red-eye gravy and good old grits. Have some."

He pushed over a plate. I gingerly spooned up some white grits in which swam some golden butter.

"Some damfool Yankees claim grits taste like library paste," said my host, genially. "What do you think?"

"Why that ridiculous," I replied.

My host looked so pleased that I didn't have the heart to add that the real difference is—library paste tastes colder than grits. Grits, to me, didn't taste like anything except a mouthful of lukewarm cotton.

"You have to be born to 'em to really appreciate grits," continued my host.

That, I gather is the real secret. Personally, I'm afraid I was born 45 years too late.

Now about Southern womanhood. What makes it so extra special?

"We have the prettiest girls in the world," explained one man I asked. "The farther south you go the prettier they get. That is, they do until you reach Atlanta. Below Atlanta the quality thins out some."

That didn't seem to be the whole answer. So I asked two young ladies—Mary and Margie (they insisted I not use their last names)—what they thought was the difference between Northern and Southern girls.

"There is a coldness about Northern girls," said Mary, who is married. "They aren't as warm or talkative when you meet them. They are more aloof."

"Yes," said Margie, who is single. "And Northern girls are surer of themselves. They know exactly what they want. They have definite opinions on everything. And they know how to chase a man. My, I wouldn't know even how to begin."

Mary arched her eyebrows at this as she glanced over at Margie, but said nothing.

"Southern girls are much less aggressive," continued Margie. "Our menfolks don't like us to speak out too much. You want to know what Northern girls would like to have? Well — men and money. And some of them are our men. There's a shortage of men in the South. Too many of them grow up and go North."

"But aren't Southern girls better at cooking and sewing?" I inquired.

"I can't sew or make my own dresses, but I can cook some things," Margie said. "What?"

"Darn it," said Margie, blushing. "Did you have to ask that?"

One thing both Mary and Margie agreed on—that Southern girls are more romantic, and more loyal to their men.

Later, still unsatisfied that I had solved the secret of Southern womanhood's charm, I put the question to an elderly Southerner. "First, let me close the door," he said. Then, sure he couldn't be overheard, he said:

"Son, I did a lot of traveling as a young man. The only difference between courting a Southern and a Northern girl is that the Southern girl can chase you harder without your even knowing she's after you."

"There isn't any real difference in 'em after you marry except this: A Southern girl bawls you out in a softer voice. But, as she speaks slower, it takes her longer to get through."

"The one thing you can be sure of is this: Whether you marry a Northern or a Southern girl you'll find each has a long memory of what a man does wrong."

"But if you quote me on this I'll denounce you as a liar. I don't want to be tarred and feathered and run out of town." Everybody clear on Southern womanhood?

THOUGHTS

This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts.

—Zephaniah 2:10.

Charity feeds the poor, so does pride; charity builds an hospital, so does pride. In this they differ; charity gives her glory to God; pride takes her glory from man.

—Quarles.

Asians Hold Misconception

About Us and Vice Versa

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—"Asia Week" in Washington was being celebrated by the arrival of President Sukarno of Indonesia for a 17-day visit of state and the wind-up of a month's tour of six U.S. university cities by ten professors, intellectuals and cultural leaders from ten South and Southeast Asian countries.

These two events mark serious efforts to prove untrue the Kling line about "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet."

President Sukarno, father of his country, will visit the shrines of his heroes—Paul Revere, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

The ten Asian professors are here to study what differences and misunderstandings there are between East and West, what interests they have in common and how the two areas might be brought closer together. Their visit is under the auspices of U.S. Commission for UNESCO — the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization.

ALL OF THE VISITORS speak English—their one common language—and most have been in the United States before.

Dr. V. R. K. Rao, director of the Delhi, India, School of Economics, finds that great changes have taken place in the United States. The last time he was here, he says he was frightened by McCarthyism. People were afraid to talk to him freely.

Now, he says, American democracy has overcome this fear. It has made a great impression on him. Dr. Rao makes clear that he is talking about McCarthyism and not about the senator—who might be on vacation or in a hospital. Anyway, he isn't heard from, and McCarthyism is dead, says the Indian.

One other big change that has taken place, says Dr. Rao, is that the American people no longer feel the friendship of Asians by their willingness to join military alliances. The test of friendship today, says Dr. Rao, is whether the Asian countries exercise true democracy and meet their people's needs.

DR. RAO SAYS he is going back to India greatly comforted and reassured that the United States may still become the moral leader of the world—which it is not today.

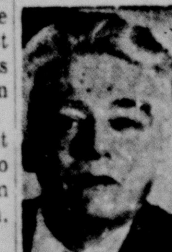

Several of the Asians express their doubts about American industrialization as a blessing for all the people. Prof. Mian Mohammed Sharif of Islamabad College, Lahore, Pakistan, talks about this. He says that even in Boston he found a difference of opinion between Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology professors with whom he talked. Some said they thought the American people were happier now than they used to be. Some said they weren't.

Dr. Rao says he thinks the United States is trying to overcome the evils of industrialization. Human relations are improved. Concentration of economic power is checked. Factories and big department stores are being decentralized to smaller towns and suburbs. In 40 or 50 years he thinks American society will have a different look.

IN SPITE OF ALL THE DISADVANTAGES of industrialization which he mentions—ulcers, the parking problem, the dynamism of demand in which he is not interested—Dr. Rao says India has decided to industrialize. It is doing this to help a majority of its people get enough to eat.

As for what Americans think about Asians, Dr. G. P. Malasekara, professor of Asian Studies at University of Ceylon and president of the World Association of Buddhists, says there is a great misunderstanding.

He finds that most Americans believe the Asians aren't concerned enough about their own welfare. It is a misconception, he says, to think that Asians are lackadaisical fatalists. It is a misconception for Americans to believe that oriental philosophies will keep Asians from taking advantage of modern scientific developments.

Greet Memorial Day With Properly Made Iced Tea

ICE-A-TINKLE, served here in handsome crystal on a glass table, iced tea makes a picture which is truly American.

BY RAYMOND MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Over the Memorial Day many families will stay home and friends and neighbors will drop in. That is when pitchers of strong, clear iced tea will be welcome.

To make iced tea an easy way, pre-measure 1/3 cup loose tea (or remove tags from 15 teabags). Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and while water is still bubbling, add all the tea at one time. Stir. Brew 5 minutes, uncovered. Strain and strain into pitcher holding an additional quart of freshly drawn cold water. (Do not refrigerate.)

Serve in ice-filled glasses. Many people enjoy freshly sliced lemon in their iced tea, sugar, too. Often fresh mint is served with it. Sometimes fresh fruit is used as garnish.

Clouding in iced tea is caused by precipitation which occurs when iced tea reaches a certain degree of coldness. It does not impair the flavor or quality of iced tea.

Clouding can be removed by adding enough boiling water to restore its crystal clearness. Note: Iced tea should not be refrigerated. It will hold its flavor and quality 3 to 4 hours after preparation.

Cream Cheese and Fresh Vegetable Tea Sandwiches
(Yield: Approximately 36 sandwiches)

Cut firm, dry-old bread into any desired small shapes (finger-length strips, circles, hearts, bells diamonds, etc.) Stick neatly on a tray and cover with a lightly dampened cloth and set aside. Mix 4 packages (8-ounces each) cream cheese with 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt (optional), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper, 4 teaspoons milk, and 4 teaspoons fresh lemon juice. Spread lightly over bread cut to this purpose. Put remaining cheese through the decorator's tube and pipe a little edge around each sandwich. Gently decorate them to resemble flowers with fresh vegetable. Make stems and leaves with slivers of green pepper, flowers with shredded carrots and herbs, tomatoes, cucumbers and radishes.

The serious problem we face about words is not one of familiarizing ourselves with crossword puzzle oddities. We need to use words which express our thoughts clearly. We must avoid misunderstandings.

We must learn to be forceful in our conversation so that we do not fall into the error of becoming "fishy washy." Men must stand for something and not turn aside from their convictions.

Lack of conviction and lack of clear expression have caused as much grief and torment in the world as sin itself.

Think clearly. Speak honestly. Use understandable words without double meanings. Believe in what you say.

If You Feel Social Failure, You Can't Help Rejected Boy

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Nine-year-old Steve attends a school whose students elect class officers every term. As policy, they're all encouraged to seek nomination.

Recently, Steve's teacher asked her class, "Which boys and girls want to become candidates for class president?" Hands were raised. So were those of hopeful treasurers and secretaries. But Steve announced no political interest. "Why, Steven," his teacher asked in surprise, "don't you want to try out for class officer?"

"Aw, who'd vote for him?" someone inquired loudly. And was instantly echoed by cries of "He'd be no good! Why ask him?"

In dismay, Steve's teacher promptly telephoned his mother to report this cruel experience. But though two weeks have passed, the boy himself has never mentioned it. His mother writes, "The teacher says I must make him talk to me about it. How can I do this?"

By recovering from your own fear of his social failure. A child who keeps such a hurt secret from his parent does so to protect himself. Weakened by fear of his own worthlessness, he's in no condition to deal with the parent's too.

He avoids adult concern over him for the same reason you by-pass a rickety chair when you stub your toe—avoidance of more pain. Rather than trust his weakness to someone who believes it fatal, he prefers to lick the wound himself in solitude.

If Steve's mother has no encouragement that can take the sting out of his experience, she'd better get some quick.

For though she can offer Steve pasteurized milk, conditioned air, anti-static toys and comic books, she cannot guarantee him completely sterile contacts with human nature.

Recover Stolen Boat At Grafton

JERSEYVILLE—The office of Sheriff Herman C. Kirchner reported the recovery of the boat belonging to Martin Bruce, 400 McCasland avenue, East Alton, which was stolen from the dock in the Shell Lake vicinity near Clifton Terrace some time during the night of May 10.

The boat was found at the foot of an embankment near the Lynn Four Corners in the Grafton vicinity where it had been abandoned by the thieves who had started to tow it overland on a trailer.

The boat was discovered by Ralph Price an employee of the highway department and was towed into Dow and Sheriff Kirchner notified. The boat was described as a "Cedar Strip" vessel and was valued at more than $300.00.

PREACHES OWN FUNERAL

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (P)—Funeral services were held Tuesday for the Rev. Harvey B. Musselman and the funeral sermon was preached by the deceased.

More than 100 friends and fellow clergymen heard the sermon. It was a tape recording of the last public message Mr. Musselman delivered.

The minister died Friday at the age of 88. His funeral sermon dealt with the 91st psalm: "The happy state of the Godly."

Nichols Park Dance opens Saturday night.

Named To Faculty

STANTON J. ERICKSON

The appointment of Stanton J. Erickson as assistant professor of biology at Illinois College for the coming year to fill the vacancy left by the year's leave of absence of Dr. Nicholas Collias, was announced Wednesday.

Mr. Erickson is a graduate of Rockford East High School and attended the University of Illinois before entering military service, serving in India and Burma with the Army Medical Corps. He received his B.S. and M.A. degrees from Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. He held a teaching fellowship in Zoology at Southern Methodist and at one time was associated with the Dallas Aquarium, and was a member of the Texas Junior Academy of Science.

Mr. Erickson is married and has two children.

Dr. Collias and his wife, Dr. Elsie Collias, will spend a year in Africa on a grant from the National Science Foundation in Washington. Dr. Collias will rejoin the faculty in the fall of 1957.

AWD, Auxiliary Fete Gold Star Parents

Both national and state officers in the American War Dads and Auxiliary were among the guests present at the annual Gold Star banquet for Morgan parents and families held Tuesday evening at the American Legion home by the local AWD chapter 28 and its Auxiliary.

Among the officers were Mrs. Roy Ackman of Macomb, Ill., national president of the Auxiliary, and Mr. Ackman; Mrs. William F. Fanning of Jacksonville, State Auxiliary president and Mr. Fanning, national membership chairman; Mrs. Clyde Vasconcellos, Jacksonville, national councilwoman for the American War Dads Auxiliaries and Mr. Vasconcellos; Wallace Hemmings, Jacksonville, national vice president for the AWD; J. R. Rice, state AWD chaplain; Roy Newberry, State AWD treasurer and from Peoria, Norman Kendall, state president for the American War Dads.

Local officers who were also guests were Mrs. John Bland, president of the Jacksonville AWD Auxiliary unit 28 and William Graubner, president of the Chapter 28. Mayor Ernest Hoagland and Mrs. Hoagland were also guests at the banquet.

The Gold Star Parents present were William Graubner, E. B. Sturgeon, Wallace T. Hemmings, Harriett Pate, Clara Tribble, Sarah Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Long, Opal Bends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harber, Helen Winner, John A. Foster, Nellie Wandell, William A. Ryan, Ursula Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Fanning, Ruth Hicks, William Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeFrates, Mrs. George Brown and S. T. Hansmeier.

Preceding the serving of the chicken pot pie dinner State Chaplain Rice gave the invocation. Tables were attractively decorated with cut fresh flowers with gold and silver stars embellishing the napkins at each place setting.

Mayor Hoagland Speaks

Mrs. Nina Abbott was program chairman for the evening and welcomed Gold Star Parents and guests. Mrs. Abbott called on Mayor Ernest Hoagland for greetings adding to his introduction that fact that he had attended a number of such gatherings in the past. She commended him for his interest and civic devotion to the Gold Star parents. Others called on for brief tribute to the honored guests were Oliver McIlrath and Wallace Hemmings. Mr. McIlrath spoke and recited a World War One poem of Joyce Kilmer before the guest of honor, Mrs. Ackman, was presented by the state president, Mrs. Fanning.

Mrs. Ackman spoke easily and informally to the group asking a continuance of respect, devotion and help toward Gold Star parents, children and relatives. She reminded the assembly of their indebtedness toward the families of veterans who gave their lives in the cause of freedom for their country.

Recognition from the floor was accorded Mrs. Vasconcellos, Mr. Graubner, Mr. Ackman and Mr. Kendall spoke sincerely but briefly to the group. Mrs. Fanning took the floor briefly urging continued respect and service to the Gold Star families.

The program chairman asked for recognition of the committees making the observance a success, Lucille Newberry, general chairman; dining room and decorating, Virginia Vasconcellos and Marie Looker; registration, Mrs. Delbert Looker; hostess, Mrs. Clyde Vasconcellos; prepare food, Emma Dyer, Jessie McIlrath, Bernice Ribby, Amelia Losch and serving were two granddaughters and a great-granddaughter of the local chapter president, Mrs. John Bland. They were Mrs. Leo Beerup, Mrs. Dale Crowcroft and Patty Crowcroft.

Worship Service For Pittsfield Seniors Sunday

PITTSFIELD—A worship service was held in the Hillerbrener room at the Methodist church at 7:45 Sunday morning for the young people leaving shortly afterward on the Pittsfield Community District high school spring tour to New York. The brief worship service was planned because of their early departure for the east, and at their own request. The Rev. Vernon Stout of the First Christian church brought the meditation. The group of seniors left from Springfield and will return here on Wednesday.

Church School Monday

The Vacation church school will open at the Methodist church on Monday, May 28, and continue through June 4 from 9 to 11 each day. The committee in charge of the program this year is Mrs. Charles Fischer, chairman. Mrs. Don Sloan, Mrs. June Weaver, Mrs. Don Giger and Rev. Dale E. Pitcher. The committee has secured the assistance of a corps of instructors.

Will Return Home

Mrs. Isabel Green, who has spent the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. Reginald Graham, plans to return this week to her residence on East Pennsylvania street in Jacksonville. A group of her friends from Jacksonville were entertained at luncheon on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Graham, followed by visiting in the afternoon. Those present from Jacksonville were Miss Clara Cobb, Miss Rose Lonerger, Miss Eva Harvey and Mrs. Clyde Fitch who were members of the faculty at Jefferson school with Mrs. Green, and Miss Floss Cobb. The group meets frequently for friendly association.

Home From Germany
SP3 David McClintock and wife have returned from Kaiserslautern, Germany, where he had been stationed since February, 1935, and where he was joined by his wife. He will receive his discharge from service soon and has enrolled at Western Illinois College at Macomb. McClintock is the son of Mrs. Jesse Gieckler.

Last Meeting Thursday

The last meeting of the fiscal year of Chapter CD of PEO was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. David Williams, with the social committee as assistant hostesses. A program for outdoor cooking was given by Mrs. William Grote and Mrs. Walter Plattner offered summer suggestions.

To Speak At Luncheon

Mrs. George Daigh, physical therapist at the new Center at Illini hospital, will give a program on handicapped children at the meeting of the Pittsfield Woman's club Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will begin with a luncheon at the Community Center and will be their last meeting of the year.

LYNNVILLE EIGHTH GRADE GRADUATION EXERCISES THURSDAY

Eighth grade graduation exercises will be held at 8 p.m. (CST) Thursday in the gymnasium of Lynnville Grade School.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies and the tea which will follow the program.

Members of the graduating class are Emily Brown, Carol Richardson, Clifford Hamel, Tommy Long and Earl Clayton. Their teacher is Mrs. Melba Bridgman.

REDUCED PENALTY

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Vernon Gail Matthews, 21, is lucky he wasn't born 50 years earlier, because he might have had to deal with a lynching party. He got off with a five-year probation term for grand theft.

The stolen article: a horse.

Dutch Theme At Zeta Beta Mothers Fete

The Zeta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held its annual Mother Daughter banquet May 14 at the Virginia Country Club.

A "Dutch" theme was carried out in the decorations with individual favors imported hand-painted shavers from Holland containing small plants. Yellow tulip place cards were used standing amongst foliage. The programs were miniature blue and yellow windmills.

The chapter president, Doris Wegehoff, welcomed members and guests and introduced her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Wegehoff, who gave the response on behalf of the mothers and guests.

Mrs. Muriel Taylor, chairman of the arrangements introduced her committee, Mrs. Louise Mills and Eileen Edlen and the entertainers, Miss Becky DeFries and Miss Norma Standish, both students of Mrs. H. M. Prather. They played accordion selections and Mrs. Alvahlee McCarty spoke on Holland and showed colored slides taken by her on a trip to that country.

The lovely floral arrangements went to Mrs. W. S. Dobbs, Mrs. Inez Conatsey and Miss Mary Taylor. Others present were Miss Rose Taylor, Mrs. Esther Ingolia, Mrs. Howard Stevenson, Mrs. Arleen Reside and Mrs. John Reside, Miss Elizabeth Lahmeyer and Mrs. Albert Fricke, Mrs. Gladys Adams and Mrs. Mary Foster, Mrs. Betty Mosley and Mrs. Russell Beard, Mrs. Sylvia Daniel and Mrs. Dorothy Daniel, Mrs. Mary Bauman and Mrs. Thelma Mills.

Home Bureau Activities

CONCORD—The Harmony Home Bureau unit at Concord met May 18 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nergenah, 611 Webster avenue in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Paul Hess, unit chairman, thanked the unit for the card she received in April. Mrs. Robert Nickel led the group in singing, "When I Was a Lady."

The major lesson, "Becoming Fabric Design," was given by Miss

Hazel L. Graves who displayed several fabrics. The selected subject, Oven Meals was presented by Mrs. Hester Nickel and Mrs. Roscoe Goodpasture. All present sampled the meal prepared.

The minutes of the April meeting were read and approved and the secretary read the highlights of the board meeting.

The following chairmen made reports: membership, 4H, program, health, safety and commodities.

The unit has changed the date for the July meeting from the 20th to July 13. The unit members signed a get well card to send Mrs. Warren Joy, who is a patient at the Passavant hospital. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. P. Joy on June 15.

Greenfield Man Receives Safe Driving Award

INGRANDES, France— Army PFC Donald D. Wallis, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayborn O. Wallis, Route 2, Greenfield, Ill., recently received a safe driver award in France while serving cake.

with the European Communications Zone.

He won the award for his outstanding safety record in driving military vehicles.

Wallis, a driver in the 7866th Army Unit's Storage Company at the Ingrandes Quartermaster Depot, arrived overseas in April of last year from an assignment at Fort Lee, Va. He entered the Army in November 1954.

Add chopped raisins and walnuts to part of that 7-minute frosting (homemade or packaged) and use as a filling for layer cake. The rest of the frosting goes over the top and sides of the cake.

Junior-Senior Prom Features Parisian Theme
CARROLLTON—“Evening in Paris” was the theme of the annual Junior-Senior banquet and prom which was held Saturday evening in the Carrollton Community Unit high school. The gymnasium of the school was transformed into a Paris sidewalk cafe scene with small tables under red striped awnings, with red checkered table cloths and candles placed in jugs, being used by the guests. Stone walks were built in front of each table complete with cedar trees. There were street lights and street signs bearing French names. A miniature Eiffel Tower was also to be seen in the distance. The serving was done by sophomore girls dressed as French maids. To complete the outdoor scene there was a dark blue sky in which tiny stars gleamed.
Kent Black presided as the cafe owner with Larry Stendebach as his head waiter and master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by Tom Forrest. The response from the senior class was given by Ronald Bishop the class president and a talk was also made by Mrs. B. J. Trost. The class prophesy was read by Mrs. Shelby Riva and the class will by Miss Phyllis Camerer. Miss Joyce Platt, Miss Dixie Jones and Miss Donna Swann sang a group of French songs and Can-Can dancers were Miss Diane Journey, Miss Karen Jones, Miss Joyce Helton and Miss Mina Meyer.
An event of the prom was the grand march and dancing was to the music of Larry Kessler orchestra from White Hall. At the close of the dance the guests were entertained at the Carlton theater until 2:30 when they again returned to the school where a breakfast of doughnuts, milk, orange juice and coffee was served by Mrs. B. J. Trost, Mrs. George Grauel, Miss Elizabeth Bell and Olin Stead all of the school faculty.
The banquet was served by the Mother's Auxiliary.

UNIFORM MAN

A NEW KIND OF BEER FOR AMERICA'S NEW WAY OF LIVING
The idea for it came from Bavaria: Why not a bright, refreshing beer like they drink in that land of sports and festivals and fun? And so it's here—made by America's leading brewer. A beer as clear and bright as a day in the Alps, as refreshing as mountain air. A beer that leaves your taste fresh . . . is light on the tongue. A beer that's made to order for bowling, bridge, do-it-yourself activities, "come-on-over" entertaining . . . Busch Bavarian.

ALL OVER THE WORLD . . .

FIRE CONTROL
PORTALES, N.M. (P. R. F. Callis, Portales, was filling his tank truck from an 18,000 gallon supply tank at a wholesale depot. A metal lid fell and struck a spark. Flames burst from the gasoline flowing into the truck. Callis jumped to a valve and cut off the flow. Then he climbed into the cab of the flaming truck and drove it a safe distance from the loading dock, jumped out and summoned firemen.

They snuffed out the blaze which officials said could have been a major fire. There was little damage.

Callis was warm but unhurt.

Here are a few of the exciting new lighting techniques popping up in well designed homes everywhere. This interior happens to be modern, but the lighting ideas are applicable to all homes—Georgian to contemporary.

In the living room, pin hole ceiling lights (1) provide an interesting pattern and furnish good, functional light without glare. Two are directed on the wall of books (titles are easily read) and a third beams down on the coffee table. Pin hole fixtures give you the full benefit of light exactly where you want it, and permit you to highlight attractive areas.

The ceiling pull-down lamp in the dining area (2) is handy for card games or studying, provides excellent general light when raised. The table lamp in the living room (3) provides at least 150 watts and casts general light up as well as local light down. The pin-to-wall lamp (4), also a pull-down model, is very convenient for reading or close work.

New ideas like these are making our homes more attractive, more usable, more comfortable. Even more important, they meet the good lighting standards that preserve our precious eyesight!

TV COLLEGE

CHICAGO (AP)—If you live within viewing distance of Chicago, you can go to college in front of your television set this fall.

The Chicago public school system will present three or four college credit courses under a program financed by a $165,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

Supt. of Schools Benjamin C. Willis said the program will enable a home viewer to get a two-year junior college education over a period of three years.

The evening consisted of a regular business meeting followed by an educational study led by Mrs. Helen Veria, educational advisor.

The hostess, Mrs. Marian Chase Schaeffer, told fascinating stories of her mischievous childhood, interesting stories and amusing anecdotes of her many and varied life experiences, tales of her travels and adventures in foreign lands. ## ALEXANDER

ALEXANDER — Clara Marie Coe was hostess Wednesday, May 16, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Bess Kumble at luncheon for her teacher, Mrs. Rowe, and girl classmates in the Alexander school 7th grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hartzell and family visited relatives in Alexander over the past weekend.

Mrs. May Colwell is serving as the treasurer of the Alexander church school succeeding Mrs. K. Neal.

Mrs. C. E. Keenan and Mrs. Katherine Robbins visited relatives last weekend at Hardinsburg, Ky. They accompanied Mrs. Keenan's sister, Mrs. Owen Menard who spent several weeks in Illinois. Clavin Brumington of Litterberry drove the car.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wood had as her guests last week in her daughter's home her sister, Mrs. May Troutner of Pittsfield and a brother, R. J. Ransom of Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harrison had as guest Saturday afternoon their daughter, Mrs. Howser Neece of Springfield.

Guests of the Harrisons Sunday were Mrs. Margaret Murphy and members of her family.

GRADS OF COLLEGES IN U.S. RETURN TO COMMUNIST CHINA

HONG KONG (AP)—Five Chinese graduates of U. S. universities crossed the border into Red China today with 23 other repatriates.

The returning graduates were Dr. Peng Chi-jui, geologist, and his wife, a biochemist; Dr. Loh Yuan-chiu, instrument engineer and graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and his scientist wife, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College; and Tsai Kih-yeu, professor of education from Ohio State University, returning to Amoy University.

Diphtheria has been virtually eliminated as a cause of death in the United States.

PRACTICING FOR THE REAL THING—Two Egyptian soldiers run through live-ammunition exercises during Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel-Nasser's three-day tour of Egyptian army positions on the eastern border of Israel. As his troops engaged in the grim practice, Nasser asserted his army is the strongest fighting force in the Middle East.

PORTRAIT OF CHARACTER—This striking portrait of three McCook, Neb., Boy Scouts may be the subject of the next national Boy Scout poster. It was created as a public service by Ginger and Chester Chinn, photographers after taking pictures of many Scouts. Mrs. Chinn finished it in oil colors. The delineation of solid character in the boys' faces has created comment wherever the picture has been shown. The two are, left to right: Cub Scout William Valentine, Explorer Scout Ronald Baker and Boy Scout Robert Petersea.

One Killed In Pike Car-Transport Crash

PITTSFIELD—Darrol Gene Wade, 28, former Florence man and son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wade of Florence, was killed instantly shortly after midnight Tuesday in a violent crash on route 36 two miles east of Pittsfield.

First arrivals at the scene of the tragedy assumed one of the cars side-swiped the other.

Wade was driving his own passenger car and the other vehicle was a large Zuzick transport carrying refrigerated meat out of Kansas City, Mo.

The driver, James Rollwagen, home address unknown, is in critical condition at Illinois Hospital here.

State police arrived on the scene to help direct traffic as the truck burst into flames after the collision. The wrecked truck was still burning at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning when the Pittsfield fire department was called again to the site of the accident.

The exact details of the fatal crash will not be known unless Rollwagen recovers. Unconscious most of the day, he regained consciousness late Wednesday but remained unable to tell of the accident.

Wade was employed at Ted's Grill and Tavern at Pittsfield and was headed toward the Pike county seat at the time of the crash. The truck was headed in the opposite direction.

The deceased was born March 4, 1928 at Florence, the son of Richard W. and Bona Swann Wade. He was married Oct. 11, 1947 to Betty Belford who survives with four small children: Bonna Jean, George Richard, Karen Irene and Rebecca Kay. One sister, Joann, preceded her brother in death.

He was a veteran of the Navy, having served during the Korean conflict.

The remains were taken to the Cunningham Funeral Home in Winchester, where services will be held at 2:30 o'clock (DST) Friday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Joe Maynard of the Pittsfield Christian church. Burial will be made in Pittsfield west cemetery.

The family will meet friends at the funeral home in Winchester Thursday afternoon and evening.

Female birds have been found to have increased pulse rates during the courting period.

INTERMEDIATES AT CENTENARY TO GIVE SERVICE

At six o'clock Sunday evening, May 27, there will be a special worship service for members and friends of Centenary Methodist church sponsored by the Intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship. Mrs. Donna Oliver and Mrs. Elmer Collops have served in an advisory capacity.

The service, to be conducted by the Intermediates of the church, is as follows: Prelude, Miss Barbara Schrader; Invocation, Miss Janet Massey; Hymn, "This Is My Father's World"; Call to Praise, Miss Sara Pearn; Scripture, Mrs. Brenda Hildebrand and Prayer, Miss Marie West.

The Responsive Reading, Miss Suzanne Smith; special music, "In The Garden," Miss Pamela Cole and Jerry Hildebrand, accompanied by Miss Suzanne Smith; Sermon, Arthur Twyford, Dean Smith; hymn, "In Christ this service.

Tall Drifter

By W. Edmunds Claussen

THE STORY: Frank Ude joins a trail outfit driving horses through the hills. It is attacked and Frank stays behind to help a fatally wounded Ed Hambant, who tells him a way to escape. After Ed dies, Frank makes his way out of the canyon.

II

FRANK UDE found the narrow canyon mouth that Rambaut had talked about. He passed a shoulder of rimrock and leaped for the opening. The thought went flashing through his head that a gunman might be concealed here, waiting with his rifle. But the raiders obviously did not know this country as well as the Cash outfit, and so Frank gained the canyon.

He swung about within the granite walls and let his gaze return over the slope. Hopelessness spread through him as he considered his unhappy condition. His horse, and Rambaut's, had vanished while he helped Rambaut aground. He was afoot in this barren rock that would give up a terrific heat as soon as the sun rose. A haunting recollection returned of Cash's unbridled laugh and he thought cryptically at least he wouldn't live long enough to know the tortures of thirst, not with this crew of killers on his trail.

Temporary panic seized him while he debated the wisdom of heaving away his carbine in order to conserve his strength. Then he decided to carry the gun as long as possible. He turned into the canyon facing the blackness in a sober mood. Behind him death would be stalking this same corridor any moment. A few hundred yards deeper the funneling walls brought him sounds of hoofs scraping shale. At once he slipped into the deep shadows.

Cash's low call reached him clearly. "Frank Ude?"

He stepped into the center of the canyon floor noticing that Cash's hand threw back the dull gleam of a gun. He caught the heavy outline of a second horse trailing on its reins. It was his own mount, the big boned chestnut gelding he would not have liked losing, and a breath of long-held air escaped his lungs. "Glad you came back, Emmett," he admitted, feeling fresh admiration for Emmett Cash.

The man loomed high on his saddle, a solid, virile figure that fitted nature's mold. He was topped with a wide hat. Again Frank sensed that infuriating distrust of his own convictions about the man. Satan or saint? The man, with a personality that compelled Frank to admire him, was an enigma.

Emmett's look lay beyond them as he drawled idly, "I was able to catch your gelding. Ed's horse was hit and pretty bad spooked. He got spook us. How about Ed?"

Frank shook his head. "He's dead."

"Too bad. I saw the way you went off your horse to look after him. Wasn't any skin off your carcass, Frank. A fellow that sticks that way to a friend is a man I can't afford to lose."

"That why you came back?"

Cash smiled at him with a dry, frail bend of his mouth. "That's right. The rest of the boys're scattered over the hills, which is what we'll be doing. In a half hour we'll be out of reach of this killer crew."

"The horses, Emmett?"

Emmett's answer came immediately. "For delivery at Fort McHenry. Frank I'll not stand being questioned again."

They rode stirrup to stirrup until the canyon opened into a wide valley running parallel to the one in which they had been surprised by the raiders. It was sooty dark here, with plateaus of granite standing dark and forlorn on either hand. This was the way the breaks would be for miles to the banks of the Colorado to the westward; it was an excellent country for eluding pursuit. Frank noted as he keenly the stillness there was the faintest sound of the raiders closing behind them.

EMMETT pulled in and sat with his weight shifted, studying him in a sober look. Finally he made his decision.

"We split here. I'm riding on after Yates and have a look at his arm. Try not to forget I came back after you."

There is No East or West? The M.Y.F. Benediction, led by President Arthur Twyford.

Ushers will be Wilbert DeLong, David Collops, Ronnie Fearney, Hugh and Robert Miller.

Refreshments will be served following the service. Members and friends are invited to attend this service.

Cash smiled with a dry, frail bend of his mouth. "We'll sink our spurs in that crew later."

"Because of Ed Rambaut," Frank murmured quietly. "Maybe. I pulled you out of a kettle—don't forget it. We'll meet in three days at Cashtown. It's a half day's ride east of the spot you joined us, in case you're not sure of this country."

Emmett's eyes were still searching some tell-tale revelation to his expression and Frank knew he puzzled the man. Ed Rambaut had tried to reach unsuccessfully into his past, and Emmett, he knew, wanted to know the same answers but hadn't asked outright. It would have to lie the way it was. Yesterday he had unexpectedly cut the trail of Cash's string heading north, they had been disposed to find a place for him in the crew, probably because they read in him a certain toughness that was necessary to their profession. Now he wondered about that profession while they in turn wondered just how tough he could be.

Abruptly it came to Frank that Cash was still waiting an answer to his question. He said, "I'll meet you in Cashtown. Then what?"

"More horses. Delivery to McHenry."

Frank let a moment slide. "Don't your range ever run dry? Do you just let riders slope in and steal what they want then ride back after another string?"

Emmett's head went back and his laugh rolled through the breaks. Frank couldn't see his face in the darkness, but he visualized the broad mouth parted widely in the laugh, his red hair lying damp against the high forehead and the glint of amusement that struck from Emmett's eyes. It was the way he recalled a dozen times these past two days. No man could appear so carefree and be totally bad. Emmett brought his hand down and slapped his thigh. By now they could hear the raiders clamoring nearer through the canyon, but Emmett was unperturbed.

"You're all right, Frank. Just one thing. Stay out of the Skull badlands. If you see you're riding onto the malpais turn back. They ain't nothing to fool with."

FRANK sat considering but not giving much heed to the warning. He was to remember the soberness of Emmett's tone later. He said jarringly, "The horses? Where do you get them?"

Emmett grinned. "So far, my range never ran dry."

"I'll be there," Frank answered, and puzzled anew as Emmett labored his gray through a side passageway between the outcroppings. Emmett used his spurs hard—much harder than was necessary.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Virgil Sasso first tells you that David William Sime will be the first to break 20 seconds in the 220-yard dash. Off what 19-year-old Dave Sime has so quickly accomplished, that doesn't exactly floor anyone slightly acquainted with the youngster's meteoric rise, but Sasso's next prediction has to put you down for a short count.

"David," says Sasso, athletic director and baseball coach of Fair Lawn, N. J., High, "has a fine chance to make you forget all the baseball players you have ever seen. He can play any position but belongs in center field."

Sime — rhymes with Jim — did not compete in track in high school, had no formal coaching. It is not true, however, that he did not put on a pair of spiked shoes until he matriculated at Duke University.

SASSO RECALLS SIME visiting Auburn in the fall of his senior year to look into a football scholarship.

"The sprint champion of the Southeastern Conference happened to be warming up," he recalls, "and David, in sweat clothes, beat him in the 100. Wilbur Hutsell, the track coach, offered David a track scholarship, told him he would be in the 1956 Olympic Games."

"After the baseball season the next spring, David competed in two New Jersey meets, beating Aubrey Lewis, now of Notre Dame, in one."

Graybearded followers of the scintillating can't recall a sprinter who leaped into renown as rapidly and with as little tutoring and experience as Sime. The newest fastest human went to Duke on a baseball scholarship, went out for track "to improve my starts in baseball." In his first outdoor freshman meet, he negotiated the 100 in 9.7, the 220 in 21.1. In the next meet, one watch caught him at 9.5 in the 100.

SIME MORE RECENTLY established two new world records within six days with 20.1 for the 100 and 22.2 in the 100 hurdles, snipping one-tenth of a second from the marks which were held by Mel Patton and Harrison Dillard, respectively. He has run the 100 in 9.4 six times, repelling in one of them the previously unbeaten Bobby Marlow, the National Amateur Athletic Union titleholder.

After shaving the 220 mark, Sime telephoned his mother.

"You know, Mom, I broke the world record," he reported, "There was nobody in back of me or I would have run it faster."

He prevailed by 20 yards. That's why Sasso believes he'll do 19.9.

Making Sime all the more extraordinary as a sprinter is his size, 6-2 and 185 pounds.

SIME, A HANDSOME kid, is patterning his career after that of Bobby Brown, who studied medicine while playing third base for the Yankees. He batted .432 as a Duke freshman, forego baseball this spring to concentrate on track and the Olympic Games.

"David has a natural power swing and a strong and accurate arm," testifies Athletic Director Sasso. "And he could be a switch hitter like Mickey Mantle. There is a center field fence at the Fair Lawn High field, 330 feet from the plate. In one practice session, he hit five balls a mile over it batting right-handed and five more left-handed."

"Scouts were on David's trail as a high school junior. He had six bonus offers as a senior."

"He'll get a lot of money for signing, and remember what I'm telling you."

"David will out-Mickey Mantle."

That's a heady statement, but Virgil Sasso is talking about a lot of athlete.

UCLA Alumnus Claims Big Payments Made To Southern Cal Athletes

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Athletes at the University of Southern California Wednesday were pictured as beneficiaries from a secret fund co-financed by three Superior Court judges in Los Angeles.

J. Miller Leavy, a Los Angeles deputy district attorney, told a press conference 60 or more athletes received $71,235 from the fund over a period of two years. He said the payments were in excess of Pacific Coast Conference regulations.

Leavy insisted he was making the charges as an interested

Alumnus of the Trojans' cross-town rival, UCLA, but not as a member of the UCLA Athletic Advisory board.

Leavy also insisted there was no vindictiveness in his action despite the punishment inflicted on his alma mater by the conference faculty representatives in their meeting at Vancouver, B.C.

Leavy said that Wednesday morning he mailed the PCC Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt and Dr. Emmett B. Moore, president of the conference faculty members, documentary evidence backing up his allegations of "undercover activities."

The registered letter was sent to the PCC office in Los Angeles. "The information sent to Commissioner Schmidt and Dr. Moore discloses a 'secret' fund administered by an organization, obviously of Southern California Boosters, but not the Trojan Club or the Trojaneers (official alumni organizations)," he said.

"This organization," by its own records," Leavy continued, "shows that in a two-year period, the sum of $71,235 was distributed to not less than 60 named University of Southern California athletes. The amounts range as high as $900 a year to individual athletes."

Tribe Gains 1st Win Over Boston This Season, 6-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—Herb Score and Don Mossi Wednesday pitched the Cleveland Indians to their first triumph of the season over the Boston Red Sox 6-3.

The second-place Tribe increased its lead over the third-place Bostonians to 1½ games. Score, gaining his fifth triumph in eight decisions, held the Red Sox to six harmless hits. But he lost his control in the eighth inning, walking in one run on four bases on balls.

Mossi promptly walked in the second run and an infield ground-out accounted for the third tally. So Boston's trio of runs were scored without a hit.

The Indians clubbed 13 hits, their season high.

They scored an unearned run in the fourth on two singles and a bad throw by Jim Piersall. They added a second tally in the fifth on three straight singles and exploded for two in the sixth on two singles, two walks and Jim Busby's double to left. Preston Ward opened the seventh with a double. Rudy Regalado and Bobby Avila followed with singles and Score sacrificed for the last two runs.

Minnesota Nine Leads Big Ten In Fielding, Hitting

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota, on the threshold of its first conference baseball title since 1935, dominates team and individual statistics in Big Ten play.

Official statistics released Wednesday shows the Gophers are hitting .331 and fielding .977 to lead the league in both departments. In collecting 11 victories against 14 defeats, they have made 127 hits for 210 bases and scored 85 runs to their opponents' 42.

The Gophers have the two leading hitters also. Third baseman John McCartan continues to lead the league with a .472 average. He has a heavy slugging record with 38 bases on 17 hits. Jerry Kindall, Gopher shortstop, is next with a .457 average.

McCartan, Kindall and Minnesota's first baseman Doug Gillen all have six home runs, which ties the conference record set by Vic Petreshene of Illinois last year.

The Gophers also have the leading pitcher in Jerry Thomas, who added two victories last weekend to run his total to five.

This week's schedule: Friday—Michigan 4-4 at Michigan State 3-5; Purdue 4-4 at Northwestern 4-6; Illinois 4-8 at Wisconsin 5-3; Minnesota 11-1 at Ohio State 7-3; Iowa 4-7 at Indiana 5-5. Saturday doubleheaders—Michigan State at Michigan; Purdue at Wisconsin; Illinois at Northwestern; Iowa at Ohio State; Minnesota at Indiana.

There have been 88 Smiths in the major leagues since 1871. The names of Brown and Jones have made the majors 42 times each.

Bob Friend Hurls 6-0 Shutout Over Cards; Long Hits 11th Homer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bob Friend, big Pittsburgh Pirate right-hander pitching with but two days' rest, hurled a brilliant 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night. It was his fourth consecutive victory and gave him a 7-2 record, tops in the majors.

Dale Long, Pirate first baseman, continued his power hitting by blasting a homer over the center field wall at the 436 foot mark in the seventh inning. It was his 11th of the year, his fifth in as many games and it was only the third known time that any hitter smashed the ball over the center-field wall at that spot. The others were Bill Terry and Dolph Camilli.

Willard Schmidt hooked up in a hurling duel with Friend until the Pirates blasted the game wide open in the fifth with three runs, two on a triple by Lee Walls and another on a sacrifice fly by Long.

Schmidt was knocked out of the box in the sixth when Dick Groat opened with a single and Hank Foiles, ex-Cleveland Indian catcher, blasted a long homer in over the left field wall. It was his first of the season.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The dogged Kansas City Athletics pulled themselves out of the American League basement Wednesday with a 17-inning 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators, decided by Camillo Pascual's bases-foul wild pitch that let bonus boy Cletus Boyer scamper in with the winning run.

It was the longest game in the American League this year. Jim Finigan's home run to lead off the 17th against faltering Connie Grob tied the score after Washington had gone ahead 6-5 in his half.

Then in a struggle as tense as though the clubs were battling for the league lead, the Athletics eked out the winning run. Grob got Joe Ginsberg on a pop foul but young Boyer singled to right.

Manager Lou Boudreau, who had used three straight pinch hitters in a successful effort to tie the score in the ninth, reached into his bullpen and brought up lefthanded pitcher Tom LaSorda to hit for Tom Gorman.

Skipper Charlie Dressen yanked Grob and brought on lefthander Chuck Stobbs to pitch.

Then Boudreau substituted another hurler, right-handed hitting Alex Kellner for LaSorda. The big pitcher responded with a single, sending Boyer to third. Then Pascual came in to relieve Stobbs and walked Mike Baxes on four pitches, filling the bases.

That set the stage for the wild heave that ended the four hour, five-minute game.

Yanks Pound Out 17 Hits For 13-5 Win Over Detroit

By DAVE DILES
DETROIT (AP)—The New York Yankees blasted four Detroit pitchers for 17 hits and a 13-5 victory Wednesday as a trio of Yankee pitchers limited the Tigers to five scattered hits.

The Yankees scored five times in the second inning and sent across six more in the fifth off bonus baby Jim Brady to put the game out of reach. The contest was played in windy, 50-degree weather at Briggs Stadium.

Neither of the starting pitchers, Billy Hoelt for Detroit and Rip Coleman for New York, was around after the second inning. The game was marred by 7 errors and 14 bases on balls. Yankee pitchers gave up nine of the walks and the victors committed three of the miscues afield.

Walks and errors were directly responsible for all of the Detroit runs. The Tigers scored twice in the second without a hit and three times in the fourth on just one hit, a double by Harvey Kuenn.

New York broke out from a 7-5 margin with the big fifth inning. Hank Bauer's home run, the only one in the game, came after Andy Carey had singled and Eddie Robinson had doubled. That started it. Three straight singles got rid of Brady, and two more runners scored before Al Aber could retire the bombers.

The Yankees batted around in the second, scoring their five runs on three singles, a double by Carey, two walks and a Tiger error.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (U)—All types of hogs declined 25 to 50 cents Wednesday, bringing to an end one of the longest sustained advances on record. Prior to Wednesday the market had gained for 11 straight days.

Saleable receipts totaled 8,500. Dealings were moderately active with buyers getting most 190 to 200-pound butchers at $17.50 to $18.00. Several hundred brought $18.25 to $18.50 and around three decks reached $18.60.

The top was $18.65, paid for a 37-head lot. This was down 35 cents from the previous day.

Most 270 to 310-pound butchers sold for $16.75 to $17.50 while sows were taken at $13.50 to $15.75.

Saleable cattle receipts totaled 15,000. Steers and heifers sold fully steady, steers topping at $24.00 on prime and heifers at $21.85 for mixed choice and prime. Choice steers brought $20.00 to $21.00 and comparable heifers $19.50 to $21.00.

Cows were weak to 25 cents lower at $11.50 to $13.50 for utility and commercial and $10.00 to $12.00 for canners and cutters. Vealers were weak to mostly $1.60 down, good and choice going at $21.00 to $25.00.

All classes of sheep held steady. Old crop shorn lambs brought $22.50 to $24.00 and choice and prime spring lambs $28.00 to $29.00. Saleable receipts totaled 600.

MOST GRAINS END HIGHER IN DAY OF DULL TRADING

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (U)—A majority of grains ended higher on the Board of Trade Wednesday, bouncing back from a mid-morning selling squall. Dealings were slow.

Wheat was unable to show much bounce, ending with losses. But corn and new crop soybeans finished at the day's highs. Old crop soybeans ended higher but didn't match the highs set early in the day.

Rye recovered after selling off with wheat during the morning. Oats ended mixed after showing some early strength.

Wheat closed 3/4-1 1/4 lower, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, oats 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, rye unchanged to 1/4 higher, soybeans 1/4-1/2 higher and lard 10 to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Main cause for the slump in wheat was rain in Kansas. While it wasn't very heavy it appeared to be quite widespread and was considered quite beneficial for the crop.

Old crop soybeans advanced early on strength in soybean oil, which in turn reflected bean oil purchases overnight by Italy. All these early gains were given up before the market rallied again at the close. Both bean oil and meal eased slightly in the cash market.

At the finish it was the new crop soybean months which were showing the most strength.

The farm bill progressed rapidly through Congress and was expected to be signed by President Eisenhower. It did not have much influence on prices, however.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (U)—Industrials and quality investment issues moved up while rails and utilities declined in a narrowly mixed bond market Wednesday. Volume amounted to $4,070,000 par value compared to $4,150,000 Tuesday.

U. S. government bonds gained slightly but long-range issues were soft.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
NEW YORK (U)—A late selloff knocked the props from under an early stock market rally Wednesday and the result was just one more decline.

Leading stocks took losses ranging from fractions to around $2. But the picture wasn't all black. Selected issues managed to hang on to stable gains.

Nevertheless, the market on average reached its lowest point since last Feb. 29—the day President Eisenhower announced he would be available for re-election. On that day the market took profits on the anticipatory rise.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped $1.00 to $180.10 compared with $179.10 Feb. 29. The industrials were down $2.00, the rails down 70 cents and the utilities were unchanged.

Volume totaled 2,140,000 shares compared with 2,290,000 Tuesday. Despite overnight news of more temporary plant closings and layoffs in the automotive industry, the market was higher from the start. The rally became brisk in the second hour, sending the lead-ers up from fractions to around $2.

As trading slowed, however, prices slid below their best, there was a gradual erosion in a quiet way until the last hour when prices were hammered down in a burst of selling.

Motors, which had nothing in the way of good news to ride on, were accompanied by steels, rails and coppers in leading the advance. By the close the motors had weathered the selloff in fair shape.

Wall Street analysts saw it as a continuing technical reaction. They noted that there was plenty of bearish news on which to kick the market downward from the start, but it went up instead, only declining when buy orders dried up as stocks gained. The market averages were still in the zone where either a rally or a sharp decline could be expected.

On the American Stock Exchange prices declined in fairly active trading. Volume totaled 980,000 shares compared with 910,000 Tuesday.

Warren Urges Federal Legal Process Speedup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Warren said today the Supreme Court is winding up its busiest term.

Coupling that report with a plea for a general speed-up in federal legal processes, Warren said the high court will dispose of a record number of cases before its summer recess. None of the cases which have been argued will be carried over to the session opening in October, the chief justice said.

In a speech for the opening session of the four-day annual meeting of the American Law Institute, Warren said of the Supreme Court:

"We are approaching the conclusion of what will have been the busiest term in the history of the court as regards the number of cases disposed of in any one term."

Saying that in 1946 the court disposed of 1,529 cases, Warren said "the number this will exceed that figure substantially." The court usually adjourns in mid-June until October.

Youth Shot In Capture, Termed Mental Case

WYATT, Mo. (AP)—Sheriff J. E. Scott of Mississippi County says David Phillips, Negro youth critically wounded when he barricaded himself in a home here, is a mental case and recently was released from a reformatory.

Phillips, 19, was reported in critical condition Tuesday at a Cairo, Ill., hospital.

Phillips was wounded several times by officers who opened fire when he refused to come out and hurried an ax through a bathroom window as they approached.

Authorities said Phillips severely beat Mrs. Lula Moore when she found him in the O. P. Brown home in Wyatt late Monday night. Mrs. Moore lives in the home.

Brown, attracted by her screams, fired one shot at the youth as he fled into the bathroom and locked himself in.

Frank J. Sparks, 37-year-old Negro owner of a Charleston, Mo. funeral home, died of a heart attack while driving Phillips to a Cairo hospital in an ambulance. An assistant took over at the wheel of the ambulance.

KIWANIS INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT TO VISIT CITY

J. A. RANEY

J. A. Raney, president of Kiwanis International, will deliver two addresses in Jacksonville on Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 30th. He will be the commencement speaker at the Illini School for the Deaf in the afternoon and in the evening he will be honored by Kiwanians at a banquet at McClelland Dining Hall, MacMurray College.

The evening event is the occasion of the annual Spring Fellowship Ladies Knight of Division II of this Kiwanis District and many Kiwanians and their wives are expected to attend. A Wadsworth Applebee, Lt. Governor of the Division will preside.

Kiwanis International President Raney, who is the official spokesman for more than 240,000 Kiwanians, is a distinguished educator. He has been the superintendent of the Indiana State School for the Deaf at Indianapolis for twenty years. Raney has a long and active career in Kiwanis, particularly in the field of boys and girls work.

Probation For Four Accused Of Bombing

Four young persons who pleaded guilty to charges of destroying property by use of explosives, were admitted to probation for varying periods in Morgan county circuit court Wednesday morning.

Restitution for property destroyed was one of the terms of probation laid down by Judge Clem Smith, who called the defendants before him individually and as a group, and admonished them sternly as to future conduct.

The four were implicated in the destruction of an outbuilding in the 1000 block on East Independence avenue on the night of April 27, by use of a homemade gaspise bomb, filled with black powder.

Jack C. Bale, 25, was admitted to probation for four years, the court taking the position that he was the oldest of the group and should have steered the others out of an unlawful act.

Jerome Custer, 18, of Springfield, who made the bomb, was placed on probation for three years.

Robert F. Schaefer, 19, of Springfield, received two years probation.

Patricia Ann Bale, 21, was admitted to probation for one year. Judge Smith warned the defendants that if they violate terms of probation they will be subject to arrest and sentence to life imprisonment.

Restitution of property was ordered on a pro-rata basis. The defendants also must pay court costs.

MYSTIC SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED BY DR. MARSTON

A special sermon will be preached in Grace Methodist church next Sunday morning at 10:45, by the minister, Rev. Frank Marston.

Since the book, "The Search for Bridey Murphy," was published, many people in the community and vicinity are asking questions pertaining to hypnotism, the subconscious mind, reincarnation, and the continuity of life after death. The minister will seek to answer some of these questions.

The music will be given by the church choir and guest soloist, Miss Pat Gasthoff.

MRS. DUCKETT FLIES TO SON'S BEDSIDE IN FLORIDA

TAKE THE TIME (1 HOUR) Thursday or Friday

There are so few appointments made to give blood May 24 and 25 that walk-in donors are badly needed to even come close to the required quota of 175 pints each day. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Grace Methodist church Thursday and Friday from 12 noon to 6 p.m. The only hour in the two day span filled is 12 noon to 1 p.m. on Thursday. Response for sandwich filling for the canteen project has far exceeded the response of blood donors. If Morgan county is to continue to have the Red Cross Blood Program the residents will have to support it!

CWF Group 6 Is Entertained At Parsonage

Members of Group 6, Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian church were guests of Mrs. Gerald Miller at the parsonage, 508 West College avenue on Monday evening.

Mrs. Lola Johnson, leader of the group, opened the meeting with the CWF prayer and then conducted a brief business meeting. It was announced the Love Boxes could still be turned in to the church office and that the installation of officers for CWF for next year will be held at the June meeting of the general fellowship. It was decided that the group give $25 to the Illini Christian Home toward the purchasing of equipment for the second floor hospital unit.

The program for the evening was presented by Rev. Ruth Nicklin of White Hall. Her message was one of great inspiration to all present.

Mrs. Miller served lovely spring refreshments from her dining table with Mrs. Johnson, presiding.

Guests for the evening included besides Rev. Nicklin, Mrs. Blanche Jenkins, supervisor of the Ramsey Memorial Home in Des Moines, Iowa and Mrs. Betcher, matron of the Illini Christian Home in Jacksonville.
